

Raindrops.

- Oh, no! He forgot umbrella at home. - Woman looked at the window, heavy raindrops fall on the grass.

Sound of recognizable car engine was closer.

Man stopped the car on the home's driveway, exit from it and slowly walked to the house.

- You could wait till I'll bring you umbrella. - Said woman when opened front door.

- What for? Each raindrop like your kiss, so it was even pleasant. - Man sneezed.

- You remember? - Woman smiled.

Man nodded and sneezed one more time.
